The Owners

Owners and brothers George and Johnny Nikollaj and cousin Tomy Lulgjuraj share a philosophy on management that incorporates inspiring a diverse and talented staff, customer service and making 6 salon clients the most beautiful people in the city. 6 provides their clients with the finest products and services and has remained on the cutting edge of the salon industry because they "never turn down a client or let them leave unsatisfied." On Thursdays (open until Midnight) you'll notice people with aluminum foil in their hair noshing on complimentary wine, hors d'oeuvres, and dancing in their chairs to 6's own resident DJ.

6 owners Johnny Nikollaj, Tomy Lulgjuraj, George Nikollaj

Johnny Nikollaj

Johnny was just finishing high school when his brother decided to take courses at beauty school. He joined in on the trade as well. "It was exciting to learn such a precise skill," he said. Since the age of 16, every place where Johnny worked his cousin Tomy worked as well, including car washes and a banquet hall.

Johnny began his life as a designer in 1996. With years of professional experience, he was on board to open 6 alongside George and Tomy. Ten years from now Johnny sees 6 "building an empire."

Johnny works at both locations creating men's and women's cuts, colors and highlights for his loyal clientele. Known as the "king of blondes," a lot of blonde bombshells around town credit their look to Johnny. Always having fun with the staff and clients, Johnny lives up to his reputation as the salon's "class clown" with his unmatched quick humor and wit. "There is a reason why we are compared to therapists. Life is an endless struggle full of frustrations and challenges, but eventually you find a designer you love."

Tomy Lulgjuraj

Tomy began his training as a stylist immediately after high school with dreams of not only mastering the craft, but also owning a premier salon.

Tomy graduated from the Michigan College of Beauty in 1996 and has had extensive training in Grand Rapids, New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and Las Vegas. He rounds out the family team as expert designer/entrepreneur. He joins cousins George and Johnny in articulating the client image and service focused vision that drives 6.

Tomy is talented at crafting fabulous updos and special party styles. In 2008, Tomy earned himself Michigan's Hairdresser of the Year and the first place Color Trophy at the Annual Tiffany Michigan Hairdresser of the Year Awards. Upon receiving his award, Tomy was asked by one of the judges why he became a hairdresser. The answer? "Chicks dude."

George Nikollaj

George chose the beauty industry out of pure dedication and today has been working as a designer for 15 years. Thanks to perseverance, a warm disposition and a tenacious spirit, he gained a mentor early in his career. George took the apprentice concept to heart and learned all he could from experts in the field before taking on a job himself.

George says opening 6 salon with his brother and cousin fulfilled a long-time dream of owning their own business. "Our parents always taught us you have to do something for yourself," he said. "We were hungry for success."

No matter how booked he may be, he can always be found interacting with a passerby and making small talk. George has a lot of experience in recruiting staff members and often takes a few minutes to get to know interested 6 applicants before their interview with the managers.

Staff, Training and Education

Owner Johnny Nikollaj bestows the success of two salons to the hard work and dedication of his staff. "If they didn't believe in us, we would never be where we are today."

When it comes to hiring staff, the partners at 6 hand-pick individuals who have assisted them in the past, or worked at the same salons. Stylists at 6 check egos at the door because the owners believe all staff members can learn from one another.

The staff at 6 salon have been taught by award-winning prominent names such as Frederick Fekkai, Joe Blackwell, Oscar Bond, Phillip Wilson, Vivian McKinder, Gino Stempora, Koby for Bumble & Bumble, Sam Villa and Recine.

6 Academy is located at 6 Birmingham and is home to in-house salon training. The academy and other off-site training incentives allows designers to stay up to-date on current trends and hair care by being taught by prestigious award winning names while also attending classes in locations ranging from Italy, Las Vegas, Los Angeles, Chicago, New York and Dallas. "I try to keep our designers challenged," Johnny says. "I want them to think globally, so they are motivated to reach a higher step in the business." Today, both locations continue to attract everyone from the young, hip crowd to an array of local celebrities and business professionals.

In its first year of business, 6 salon of Royal Oak not only had revenues of over 1 million dollars but also earned itself 'Salon of The Year' in Salon Today magazine. When the doors of the 3,400 sq. ft. shop opened in March of 2003, it brought to Royal Oak something the area didn't have—a highly-stylized, minimalist space, handpicked staff and unfaltering commitment to client care and service.

2013

6 salon opened its second salon in downtown Birmingham in 2007 on Maple with a shotgun storefront space. In 2013 the salon moved a few blocks to Old Woodward with a new location that rivaled its original location in size and corner presence. Featuring a warmer material palette than its sibling, both share a rare accomplishment in the salon industry by being named 'Salon of the Year' by Salon Today Magazine during its first year of operation.
